CHAMPION, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1941

NUMBER 33

'JOCK'S WAGGIN' TONGUE

Vol. 5 Thur., Aug. 21 No. 33
Jock McIntyre, Editor.

Champion District as a whole was very fortunate in the hail storm that passed over the district last Saturday. However there were three or four severe losses southeast of town. Mrs. Anderson, Messrs. Bjornson, Truesdale, Griffin, Bowman, Davies, Holm, Wellman and Al Anderson, all suffering losses.

We have a stock of the New Symon's pump oilers. Listen! You can hear it pump. These cans are western Canada made. We also carry the Easiject in all sizes. It's heat in England.

Mrs. Sutherland (Eileen McCullough) and Mrs. Smith (Letha Hopkins) and husbands, were Champion visitors this week from Winnipeg.

Findlay Sr. and Jr. Condor Enamel ranges have the very popular two position oven door. The oven door at half open position will heat the kitchen with less fuel, as heat is given off more quickly.

Howard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Kidder are also district visitors this week.

Superior Sashmaster fasteners hold storm doors and windows, also window screens much tighter than the buttons.

Max Groves was around buying cigars the other day. Anetta and new son are doing fine.

Cling-surface Bar Belt Dressing and Cantol Belt Wax are two high grade lines of belt dressing. They cost more but are worth it.

Granlin and Son of Vulcan are drilling water test holes on the Holm farm, sufficient quantities of which would assure Champion of an airport and flying field.

We have a stock of eave trough, conductor pipe, corners, end caps, elbows and cut-offs—everything you need for this work.

Our sympathies to the Marshman family in their sad bereavement.

French River and Devil's Gap Lure Visitors

A cottage on the shore of a tree-lined lake with opportunities for fishing, boating, swimming and other warm-weather recreation provides the kind of summer holiday which is essentially Canadian. But life in a cottage sometimes means a lot of work owing to the lack of city conveniences, which is the reason for the great popularity of such resorts as Devil's Gap and French River where visitors live in cottages which are as well serviced as hotel suites.

The simple life, with all the informality and ease which the expression implies, is the watchword at these two famous Canadian Pacific resorts. Mother is relieved of the cooking, daughter of the dish-washing and sonny of the lawn-mowing, while father dresses in his oldest and most comfortable clothes to pursue his own peculiar ideas of summer life.

There is a strong family resemblance between Devil's Gap Lodge, near Kenora, and French River Chalet Bungalow Camp, on the Canadian Pacific Toronto-Sudbury line. In a beautiful section of lakes and forests, they offer endless possibilities for recreation. No part of Canada has better fishing, and there are facilities for tennis, golf and similar sports. Great expanses of water and wooded country make exploring a pleasure, by canoe, motorboat, automobile, horse or on foot.

Individual bungalows or cottages, self-contained and cosily furnished, have electric lights, running water and maid service.

The central chalet or lodge is the nerve centre of the community because it is there that visitors have their meals and enjoy dancing and other amusements in the evenings.

Although there are amusements for every member of the family, the most popular sport at these resorts is fishing. That is because the fishing is so good. Pickerel, pike, sturgeon, plus those scrappiest game-fish of the Canadian water-world, the muscalunge and the small-mouth black bass are found in abundance. Both districts have produced record fish, the most outstanding of which was the sixty and one-half pound muscalunge caught by J. J. Coleman, of Evansville, Indiana, in Eagle Lake, east of Devil's Gap, in 1939. That one holds the world's record.

Victory Loan Men Give Commissions To War Services

Hitler and the slaves of regimentation had another example put before them of how democracy works when the workers of the Champion Division of the Champion-Carmangay Unit of the Victory Loan Campaign turned over their commissions to a group of war services.

Sales of the Champion unit totalled $65,600 which realized commissions of $328. After expenses of $18.50, and secretary's salary of $50 were paid the net sum of $264.20 was distributed as follows: Red Cross $132.10, I. O. O. F. $88.05, War Services Fund $66.05.

The committee under the leadership of Ed. Griffin and vice-chairmanship of J. D. Hagerman, and all the workers responsible for the success of the drive are to be commended on this patriotic gesture.

The Carmangay sub-unit achieved a total of $27,000 in sales which netted commissions of $135.50.

Wheat Is Moving From Champion Elevators

138,000 bushels of wheat are to be removed from elevators at Champion as soon as cars are available.

This was the information received by the Secretary Treasurer of the Municipality in a letter from the Canadian Wheat Board dated August 15, and in reply to a resolution passed at the last meeting of the Municipal District.

The removal of this amount of grain will provide enough storage space for the first quota of the new crop.

Hail Sweeps Wide Areas In District

Champion, Carmangay and district were swept by a disastrous hail storm last Saturday afternoon. Damage in some areas was slight but in others a 100 per cent loss occurred.

Jim Bowman and Dick Davies were in the thick of the storm and suffered heavily. Some of the others to suffer varying degrees of damage were Mrs. B. Anderson, Albert Anderson, Ed. Griffin, Mrs. S. Truesdale and Morgan Smith.

H. A. Bjornson and his two sons K. and A. Bjornson suffered slight losses on their farms. The Johnson farm, leased by R. H. Wellman and the farm of H. Jopling also suffered damage.

AVIATION AFTER THE WAR

A question often asked is "What is going to happen to all these thousands of boys that are now in the Air Force when the war is over?"

While no one can say with any authority just what will happen, the outlook for their finding a permanent place in aviation is very encouraging.

Some of them will, of course, on demobilization wish to return to their former occupations in civil life. Those who wish to remain in their new field and use their new found knowledge in permanent aviation work, will without doubt be able to do so.

Good sometimes comes out of evil and so it will probably be with aviation in Canada when this war is over. We will have thousands of trained experts in every phase of aviation; we will have innumerable aviation fields and airports, probably the best equipped in the world; we will have a wealth of flying equipment, a large part of which, can no doubt, be altered for civil air use.

In other countries, particularly England and the United States designers are constantly developing new flying machines. In five years it is predicted large machines capable of carrying many people and tons of freight will be capable of flying around the world without stopping.

What use will be made of all this development, will of course remain problematical but the obvious fact is that civil aviation in the next ten years is due to become one of the biggest factors in every day life.

Practical developments will probably run along these lines—Privately owned planes and chauffeur driven planes will be as numerous as automobiles today. Regular passenger services by air will operate on regular schedules to most points now only served by rail or bus. All mail and most express and a large amount of freight will be transported by air.

The opening up and development of the "north country" great as it has been since the last war, will be insignificant to what will come in the years immediately following the close of this war. And of course trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific travel will, by air, be as common as it is now by boat.

In ten years or so people of Montreal will week end in Vancouver and vice versa. Albertans if they get tired of winter can run down to California for the week end, or Winnipeggers can leave their offices on Saturday noon and be in Banff or Jasper for afternoon tea. In summer those who wish the great open and unoccupied spaces can go as far north as they want in an afternoon's flying.

Is this all a flight of the imagination? Airplane designers and technicians assure us it is logical air progress and will, when the war is over, shortly become a reality. When we take into consideration the development in Canada now, with its thousands of young men in aviation; with its numerous air fields built for many purposes, we can begin to realize that we in Canada will be "way out ahead" as soon as we get the other business over with.

This then is what is likely to happen to thousands of "boys" in the air force. If they wish they will find places and be in the forefront of the greatest transportation development the world has ever known.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT

With the cost of manufactured goods and most commodities rising steadily the price of wheat is at a ridiculously low figure. On the basis of 70 cents a bushel for One Northern at the terminal, the average selling price to farmers at local shipping points in Alberta, after averaging grades, will be around 50 cents a bushel. Even with a big crop such a price is profitless. Alberta's wheat crop this year is less than half of last year's outturn, which makes the price situation even more acute.

The Wheat Pools of Western Canada are endeavoring to induce the federal government to increase the price of wheat to a dollar a bushel.

In the United States, wheat farmers are obtaining approximately $1.10 a bushel through a guaranteed minimum price and special bonuses. That figure is considered on a parity with other prices.

In Western Canada, farmers have higher costs than in the United States and $1.25 a bushel could be considered as a parity price. The figure of $1.00 a bushel is not at all unreasonable.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By
Dr. K. W. Neatby
Director, Agricultural Department
North-West Line Elevators Association

Using Soil Scientists

Some time ago, in this column, I suggested that the necessity of reducing wheat production provided an opportunity to encourage the adoption of soil conserving practices. This opportunity was missed largely because we allowed the bulk of our grass and clover seed to be exported.

What about 1942? Perhaps we may be able to forget all about acreage reduction; but, if not, surely an effort should be made to see that the reduction is made in the interests of better farming. In northern wooded areas, yield and quality of wheat can be increased by the use of legumes plus artificial fertilizers. Grass could be used in the rotation with advantage to the wheat grower in many parts of the plains.

These problems differ greatly from one soil zone to another. In outlining an agricultural policy for 1942, all available technical information should be used. These ideas were embodied in a resolution introduced to the regional meeting of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists at Brandon, by the Agricultural Director of The North-West Line Elevators Association, and seconded by the President of the Manitoba Wheat Pool. It is certain that soil scientists, agronomists (a polite name for field husbandmen) and economists could offer much helpful advice, and so, also could many farmers. The resolution called for the appointment of a committee of such persons with special training, and this can surely be endorsed by all of us.

Farmers who have not previously sown grass or clover seed should consult the nearest experimental farm or district agriculturist.

We can grow more wheat and better wheat on fewer acres, if we follow the examples of our best farmers.

Experimental Farms

When land was new and wheat comparatively high in price, the practical farmer paid little attention to the scientific agriculture of the so-called white collar farmer. Now that we are being overrun by weeds, our soils suffering from erosion and wheat is in the doldrums, the importance of greater efficiency and regard for permanent fertility is accepted.

If all the knowledge accumulated at experimental farms could be applied to the farming industry, farmers would be much more prosperous and farms in much better condition to hand over to the next generation.

New and improved varieties are accepted readily. The wheat stem rust problem was solved almost overnight, not merely through the development of rust-resistant varieties, but because farmers accepted them.

Weed, soil drifting and water erosion problems could be solved in a similar manner if full use were made of information available at experimental farms and stations. The gap between agricultural knowledge and agricultural practice is far too great. Much is being done to reduce this gap by agricultural representatives and extension workers, but real progress depends upon the interest of the farmer himself.

Harvest will be upon us in a month. Before then, wise men and women will organize picnic groups for a day at the nearest experimental farm, and will not miss the regularly organized field days. Group visits provide for exchange of ideas and economize the time of experimental farm staffs.

Some Facts On Poliomyelitis
 by The Department of Public Health

Poliomyelitis is transmitted by contact, the infectious agent being present in the discharges from the nose and throat and in some cases in the discharges from the intestinal tract.

The name "Infantile Paralysis" is a misnomer. A large number of cases of the disease are being reported which are abortive in type. Such cases recover in a few days without any paralysis of any kind. Many of these cases resemble ordinary gripe and some have been diagnosed as intestinal influenza. These are most dangerous cases in so far as the spread of infection is concerned. It is therefore a matter of vital importance that all such mild abortive cases should be seen by a physician at the onset, and isolated at once.

Persons may harbor the cause of the infection in the nose and throat without themselves developing the disease. These "carriers" as they are termed, may be a real source of infection to others.

The most effective means of preventing the spread of Infantile Paralysis is to keep children entirely by themselves, within their own yard.

Children giving evidence of any sickness of any kind or any departure from normal health should be put to bed at once and medical advice promptly obtained. Keep all such cases in bed until the attending physician considers it safe for them to get up.

All patients suffering from the disease are required to be quarantined for a period of three weeks from the onset. The period of quarantine for contacts with cases is two weeks. The head of the household may be permitted to live outside the premises quarantined providing his contact with the patient has not been intimate and his occupation does not bring him into contact with children, and providing, further, that he is not engaged in the handling of foodstuffs.

The co-operation of all parents is strongly urged in safeguarding their children from risk of infection. The Provincial Board is of the opinion that where cases or suspected cases of Poliomyelitis have developed, operations for the removal of tonsils and adenoids should be deferred until such time as the present outbreak has abated.
